

Kate York, All Dressed In You well, it's something that I am so very cautious of the age old fear of life, loss and love well, it got much deeper last time you left, oh so I'm doing ok at trying to keep it from coming back around there goes the sun behind the moon there goes my heart all dressed in blue only because I was only a fool for you guess my heart got caught on more than loss yes, I left a trail behind me thought I'd covered my tracks swore I'd never look back but somehow, love found me there goes the sun rising so soon there goes my heart all dressed in you
