

Katy B, Under My Skin

Sleeping

Monday turns to Tuesday,
Then it's the weekend
Going through the motions,
But it's not healing
This wound in my chest
No rest from these thoughts of you

Flashbacks

I'm driving in your car,
Volume pushed right up to max
All those late nights,
I try and dream them back
One by one to find just a piece of truth

Don't you know
Just you've done to me
Took it all
Left me hungry
The beginning
Not the end
The moment that i let you in

let you in under my skin
let you in
under my skin

Empty

Boy, you said before
That we weren't meant to be
Delivery was pure
Were you my enemy?
Here all alone
You moved on
Now cat caught your tongue

Questions

Tell me why you use love like a weapon
My friends say just see it like a lesson
But i am not the same
Your game was a wicked one

Don't you know
Just you've done to me
Took it all
The beginning
Not the end
The moment that i let you in

let you in
under my skin
let you in
under my skin
