

Katy Perry, Brick By Brick

The weight of my words
Are like feathers from a bird
My mouth, it moves but you wont hear a thing
Cause Ive dug myself deep
I managed to fit both my hands and feet
All my little white lies
Smell like a big old bucket of bleach
In one ear
And out your other
So lock and key
You wont open up for me
So brick by brick
I am breaking through these walls
Oh between you and me
Im not giving up
Im not giving giving up
I guess
And it feels like youre in China
And I am in Peru
When ever I am sleeping next to you
We can hear the crickets singing
Oh all throughout the night
OH boy can we just get used
To something so right?
And sure I confess
Im a mess
Im a mess of mistakes
But please count to ten
Before you go and throw it all away
So brick by brick
I am breaking through these walls
Oh between you and me
Im not giving up
Im not giving giving up
On on on us
Cause if you give up
Then what am I supposed to do
All these dreams
Never will come true
Without you
Vocal ad lib
Brick by brick
I am breaking through these walls
Oh between you and me
Im not giving up
Im not giving giving up
Oh baby dont give up
On this love
Dont give up
On this love
