

Keller Williams, Stupid Questions

Where in the hell are we going?
Where in the hell is here
What is the point of our knowing
Where is the view that is clear
How long does it take to get there
How long ago did we leave
How long is this road in which I stare
How long until we achieve

Whether the weather, block out the sun
Whether the weather bring rain
Whether the weather can weather this fog
Stupid Questions are to blame
Stupid Questions are to blame

Like what is the object of this game
What is the price that we pay
What is the distance of this terrain
What does it take just to play
Why are we going so fast
Why are we in this zone
Why is this cop towing my car
Why can't they leave us alone

Whether the weather, block out the sun
Whether the weather bring rain
Whether the weather can weather this fog
Stupid Questions are to blame
Stupid Questions are to blame

Like who, what, when, where, why, how much who, what, when, where, why, etc.

Who the hell here is responsible today
Who the hell here is alive
Who goes and it's okay
Who's turn is it to drive
When did I decide to move on
Or when the wind will it be near
When did this engine light go on
When will the towtruck be here

Whether the weather, block out the sun
Whether the weather bring rain
Whether the weather can weather this fog
Stupid Questions are to blame
Stupid Questions are to blame

Like who, what, when, where, why, how much
