

Kelly Clarkson, All I Ever Wanted

Tear up the photographs
But yesterday wont let go Every day every day every minute Here comes the emptiness Just cant be lonely you know
Every day every day hey hey
This second-chancins really getting me down You give and takin everything I dreamed about Its time you let me know let me know just let go
All I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was a simple way to get over you
all I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was an in-between to escape this desperate scene where every law reveals the truth baby cause I all ever wanted
all I ever wanted was you Id rather walk alone Dont wanna chase you around Every day every day every minute I thought a thousand times For I let you drag me down
Every day every day hey hey
Your new beginning was a perfect ending
But I keep feeling weve already been here before
Its time you let me know let me know just let go
All I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was a simple way to get over you
all I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was an in-between to escape this desperate scene
where every law reveals the truth
baby cause I all ever wanted
all I ever wanted was you Tell me with so many out there Why I always turn to you Your goodbyes tear me down every time
And its so easy to see that theyll blame this on me
All I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was a simple way to get over you
all I ever wanted
all I ever wanted
was an in-between to escape this desperate scene where every law reveals the truth baby cause I all ever wanted
all I ever wanted was you
