

Kelly Clarkson, The Last Day Of The Year

What happened to the man who used to take me straight into misery
I want you back and now I must admit it shames me
How could this be?

Tell me what's this desperation
'Cuz I don't recognize these chains
I think I made a bad mistake

CHORUS

'Cause once I ran away
I've loved you since the day
The day I broke your heart (heart heart heart heart)

It's more than I can take

I loved you since the day

The day we fell apart (part, part part part)

Now everything is coming under

'Cuz you were the chance I can't afford to waste

I loved you since the day

The day we fell apartt

I must admit the grass looks so much greener

On the other side

Since you left I notice now you're so much meaner

And it's something I think I like

Tell me whats this desperation

'Cuz I don't recognize these chains

I think I made a bad mistake
