Kiesza, When Boys Cry

what's the point of hiding boy I can see it in your eyes silence is a good decoy but it isn't a disguise what's the point of faking when inside you're breaking whatoha holding back from me I ma the one you're meant to trust help me whit your feelings keep your secret between us show me where the hurt is underneath the surface teardrops turning into rust still your eyes are saying so much the truth is hiding in the dust

When Boys Cry
Boys Cry
you gotta learn whet to see in their
dry eyes /2x
and you may have to listen through Gritted teeth /2x
because you don't always see it when
Boys Cry
Boys Cry

whatoha gonna do now boy I can feel you dogging me you don't full me whit your ploy I can see through everything instead of coping instead of coping put it in the open

teardrops turning into rust still your eyes are saying so much the truth is hiding in the dust

When Boys Cry
Boys Cry
you gotta learn
whet to see in their
dry eyes /2x
and you may have
to listen through Gritted teeth /2x
because you don't
always see it when
Boys Cry
Boys Cry
