Kim Wilde, Bitter Is Better

Written by m. tsuchiya & amp; amp; b. crunchfield

You lay me down in satin sheets softly You're movin' slow It's gonna be everything just for me I know how you want to love me

Your love is sweet, I'm going down easy But I don't know What I'm doing here anyway, it's not me I don't like what I feel It's so oh woh unreal You better leave

You go I call the stranger in black But can't you see you're on the wrong track Tonight I face the danger of love that knows no promises

Alive I know I'm not coming back

Bitter is better
I gotta stop and walk away
Bitter is better
Your kind of love is not for me
Bitter is better
Locked away in your lovin' sweetness
Lost the key and I just don't need this

I'm not the woman you were looking for anyway High on a pedestal, lillywhite Givin' me diamond rings You're just too much for me I'll lose my sanity You better leave