King Diamond, Doomed By The Living Dead

I□m back again, back in the evil night, and you're waiting Doomed by the living dead, flames are rising, can't you see you're dying □The wolves are howlin', a baby's cry in the distance, cold winds blowing in the dead of night, flames are rising, can't you see you're dying No way to survive this evil night, if the dead won't leave you alone So just say goodbye to all your holy angels, you're gonna die Long black hair, face like a dead, I am here, Satan in my head You can't see nothing but confusing mirrors, now you feel it It's getting nearer, flames are rising, can't you see you're dying So dark in your mind, breath of Satan in my back, I can't help you cause I'm one of the dead, flames are rising, can't you see you're dying No way to survive this evil night, if the dead won't leave you alone So just say goodbye to all your f**kin' angels.
