

King Princess, Prophet

you call when you want it everybody wants something from your soul on the molly someone's friend is talking like they know you're on lit
I just want to be your pretty girl when you want it cause I can only think about you what it's like to walk around you and why they like to talk about you

cause I can only think about you you know what you want it's only about the money and control can't step off it someone else will cop it like it's gold you're a prophet someone's gonna to profit don't you know I just want it

oh no apologies twisting your words and your privacies and honestly it's the price of the prodigy wannabe
twisting your words and your privacies

cause I can only think about you
