

Kirsty McGee, Thank You

thank you for holding me when the winds were very strong when we couldn't hear our voices when the storm was all around i've been thinking of you lately though i can't recall your smile
thank you for holding me
when the winds were very strong

thank you for supporting me when i could not walk straight when i hadn't strength of spirit or the courage to see clear
i've been thinking of you lately and i do recall your strength

thank you for loving me when i couldn't love myself when you couldn't know for sure i'd mend you gave your precious time
i've been thinking of you lately you've been often on my mind thank you for loving when i couldn't love myself thank you for trusting me when my eyes were blind with tears

when we couldn't hear our voices when the storm was in our ears i'll not forget your kindness (which i'm sure i don't deserve) thank you for your kindness
