Kiss, King Of Hearts

She was just 19, but in here eyes she was old enough to know We were caught between two city streets, like a bad dream

We could barely survive in the world outside, where the writin's on the wall Still she lets me know, we just can't let go, and she takes my heart away

Chorus:

When she tells me I want it, I go crazy, I need it When she touches I feel it, right there in her eyes I'm the King of Hearts, livin' in a fantasy The King of Hearts, when she's layin' next to me Shinin' like a jewel tonight, love is gonna rule tonight Yeah I'm gonna be the only one, to be King of Hearts

Like a neon light, the shadows flash across my empty room We could leave tonight and save ourselves from a bad scene When we walk on by with our heads up high, all the faces turn our way Yeah it's in their eyes, and they realize, we can make our getaway
