

Kitty Wells, Hurtin's All Over

A year ago today I felt like dying as unloved and unwanted as a heart could be
The time has a way of changing yesterday now the hurtin's all over all over me
Yes the hurtin's all over all over my body
It started in my heart and it's spread all over me
Father time did his part took the hurt out of my heart
Now the hurtin's all over all over me
[ steel ]
Now my arms ache to hold you like they used to do
And my eyes ache for the love light they no longer see
How I miss your caress how my lips ache to be kissed
Yes the hurtin's all over all over me
Oh the hurtin's all over...
Yes the hurtin's all over all over me
