I'LL LOVE YOU 'TIL THE DAY I DIE

Writer Marty Robbins

Alone here at home while you're free to run and roam
There's no use in tryin' to make my dreams come true
You have always lied to me, my darlin' I can't see
Any reason for my stayin' here alone
I never start our quarrels and I never rush off mad
I'm the one that asks forgiveness, to love you makes me glad Life isn't worth it's troubles when you're livin' with regret
Sometimes I wish that we had never met
After all I've been to you seems you'd be just halfway true
That's expectin' too much from a cheat like you
But I know someday you'll care and, my dear, I won't be there
And you'll be the one who sits alone and cries
Alone and so blue and so much in love with you
Why, oh why did God make such a fool as I
Though your love has been untrue I'm still in love with you
And I guess I'll love you till the day I die
