

Kitty Wells, I Never Once Stopped Loving You

The nights were dark and long I spent a million all alone

For I never once stopped loving you

My world was cold and still my dreams lay unfulfill

But I never once stopped loving you

I never once stopped believing we'd love again the way we used to do

And today when you came back my patience was rewarded

For I never once stopped loving you

[steel]

I could have loved another but I chose the way and suffered

For I never once stopped loving you

I prayed to God to guide you until I could be beside you

And I never once stopped loving you

I never once stopped believing...
