

Kristian Kostov, Honest

you keep getting better at stories and I stopped reading between the lines you don't answer my calls, when I need you so, why are you whit me right now no matter what you say I know you're lying but kinda wish you were telling the truth tell me that you're honest tell me thet they'y makie it all up what about our promise? what abput the things that we could have?

did you put a label on it? cause I am throwing all that shit away
tell me that you're honest
tell me that you're honest, hey
