Kula Shaker, Great Hosannah

If we stand here together And we see the world as one We may think there's no future But it's the same for everyone It's like the world has lost its head And it's like all the prophets said But will we arise to a new world If we stand here together We can laugh at what we've done All out time has been wasted And there's nowhere left to run There may be trouble up ahead Will we be sleeping in out beds Or will we arise to a new world Look for signs and portents I'm looking for a reason to believe Will we arise in our time At the dawn of another meaning Will we awake at the break of a great hosannah Well if there's nothing left to do Just hold your breath and hope it's true That we'll arise