

Kwabs, Cheating On Me

Lately I, I've been rolling with the tide
It swept me away, to another place
Lord knows, you ain't seen enough of me
Why did I fall asleep, on a love so deep?

I fell apart when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
Broke my own heart, when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me

Our love is like a fading melody
A song I should've sung, a note I should've reached
I ruined this, then I find hard to describe
Stayed up so many times, I could've been by your side

I fell apart when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
Broke my own heart, when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me

Why don't you cry?
You live this life
You live this life

I fell apart when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
Broke my own heart, when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
Cheating on me
I fell apart when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
Broke my own heart, when I couldn't see
I was cheating on me
