

Kygo, Freedom (ft. Zak Abel)

I was living a lie
living a lie
this is my confession
before we met
there were so many nights
so many nights
full of dark temptation
that I regret

you give me something that I can hold onto a little light when I am down on my knees I was so lost on myself when I found you but in that moment you made me believe you give me freedom, freedom freedom I've been looking for freedom, freedom is you
