

Kyla La Grange, Violet Blue

I never felt my heartache
Till it ached for you
You see
I never felt such cold wave
Cut me in two

And now I keep on falling
I keep ion calling
For the only thing I want
Underneath here crawling
And my mind keeps stalling
When I think of what I've lost

How will I learn to let you lie?
Stop watching as your heart trips over mine
How will I ever learn to let you lie?
I'm hopeless over you
The colors that you bruise
They're violet blue

I never know my harm face
I look to you
See you this quit time
I never new
Still I'm a burning fuse
And now I keep on falling

And now I keep on falling
I keep ion calling
For the only thing I want
Underneath here crawling
And my mind keeps stalling
When I think of what I've lost

How will I learn to let you lie?
Stop watching as your heart trips over mine
How will I ever learn to let you lie?
I'm hopeless over you
The colors that you bruise
They're violet blue
