

Lacuna Coil, Intoxicated

Die!

Die!

Broken mirror

Seven years of stolen luck

I tried to fix you one more time but I must let it die

The dream that we'd survive, can't matter if I tell a lie

Set it free, lost ambition

I only caught my place in your life

Set it free, superstition

I gave up on this fairytale! Die!

Lying means wisdom

Cross my heart but it's a lie

I can't just going the last time

You used one of your nine lives

I gave up all of mine, can't matter if I tell a lie

Set it free, lost ambition

I only caught my place in your life

Set it free, superstition

I gave up on this fairytale! Die!

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

In the world that I created, I'm intoxicated

Set it free, lost ambition and now I won't look back

I've turn my back out of the ground

Set it free, superstition

And now the air I breathe is poison free

I'm freed, unbound

Set it free, lost ambition

I only caught my place in your life

Set it free, superstition

I gave up on this fairytale! Die! Die!
