Lady GaGa, Words

I won't break down today Another brick's in my way of shadows The promises they made Regret themselves and say this is too hard Yeah they say you grow when you don't succeed But it's hard to breathe when no one believes in me So let the sound bring me back Sounds have no regrets And before you know it I'll take your words and be gone Your words and be gone Your words and be gone Right to the start and be gone Your words and be gone I'll take your words and be gone Whenever you're afraid Or someone's far away, never give in 'Cuz happily, we'll reign When consequences change, believe you can win Yeah they say you grow when you don't succeed But it's hard to breathe when no one believes in me So let the sound bring me back Sounds have no regrets And before you know it I'll take your words and be gone Your words and be gone I'll take your words and be gone Right to the stars and be gone Your words and be gone I'll take your words and be gone Let the sound bring me back Sounds have no regrets And before you know it I'll take your words and be gone Your words and be gone Your words and be gone Right to the stars and be gone Your words and be gone I'll take your words and be gone Your words and be gone Your words and be gone I'll take your words and be gone
