

LaFee, You are beautiful

You are hiding it away from me for so long
Im feeling sorry for you, what are you doing to yourself
You think that I dont see it but you are ill
You are not only dieting, no, you are puking yourself scrawny
Beautiful eyes
Dont shine anymore
Beautiful eyes
Are sad and empty
You are beautiful, you want to be more beautiful
You are so skinny, you want to be more skinny
You are lying straight to your face
You are so beautiful and you hate yourself
You are beautiful, you want to be more beautiful
You are starving yourself until you die
With violence over and over again
You are tucking your finger into your throat
The way that you are going is leading you nowhere
I can see skin and bones, Im not blind
You are standing at the abyss, you dont recognize it
You are no longer beautiful when you collapse
Beautiful eyes
Dont shine anymore
Beautiful eyes
Are sad and empty
You are beautiful, you want to be more beautiful
Why
Its your mirror image that is lying
Its shouting at you so that you are betraying yourself
You are ill, yes, you are slowly snuffing yourself out
You are hating yourself more and more why
You are beautiful, you want to be more beautiful
