

Lana Del Rey, I Can Fly

I Can Fly

You had me caged up like a bird in mid-summer
You saw me waiting I was crazy on fire waiting to fly
I Can Fly

I had bright wishes in the summer, I was bathing in sunlight
I was painting in the garden like a ghost in mid-July
Running fast from something with my eyes wide like
Saucers spinning in the sun

I had a dream that I was fine
I wasn't crazy, I was divine

I Can Fly

You had me caged up like a bird in mid-summer
You saw me waiting I was crazy on fire waiting to fly
I Can Fly

Your lies were hard kisses in the summer
I was dreaming of a lake
Dreaming of the water where I'd rise like a Phoenix
Or that Targaryen (?) from the fire
I've got things to tell you like I know that you're a liar

I had a dream that I was fine
I wasn't crazy, I was divine

I Can Fly

You had me caged up like a bird in mid-summer
You saw me waiting I was crazy on fire waiting to fly
I Can Fly

Your words cut like a knife and butter
I was fighting for my art
Fighting with my lover, you had me so tied up
Thinking there's no other
Yeah, right
Yeah, right

I Can Fly

You had me caged up like a bird in mid-summer
You saw me waiting I was crazy on fire waiting to fly
I Can Fly
