

Lapis Lazuli, Alive

This is all that is left for me to say
This is all i have to give

Is this all that is left for me to say
Have i got nothing to give

All the pieces have fallen into their place
And there is nothing left for me

All the things that i dream to become
I have put all dreams to rest

All the things that i dream to being
They are all fading away

Everything that lay dearest to me
Will be watching my demise

I'm alive through you
My/your story will live on trough you/me
And we carry on
As i live through you forever

We are one
We're divine within ourselves
I'm alive because of you

Not alone
We're immortal trough ourselves
One life for another soul

We stand stronger as one
One mind, one heart
Together we cant fall

We are stronger as one
One soul, alive
As one we will not fall

I'm alive through you
My/your story will live on trough you/me
And we carry on
As i live through you forever

I'm alive through you
My/your story will live on trough you/me
And we carry on
