

Lapis Lazuli, Archangel (2006 edition)

He can conceal himself everywhere
In heaven, or in hell
Hes a creature of many faces
A trickster, a fools god
He predicts the fates of us all
On the lifebook, his seal be found
And on the day of Armageddon
He will rise, when other falls
Oh, i am haunted by sins, I am awake in my dreams
I am lost in a maze of madness, please, cant you guide me out from this hell?
The angels watching me now, hear every breath that I take
An eye of fire gaze upon me, I have never felt this way before

Why have I been elected to this fate?
Have I done something wrong in this life?
I have been robbed of all that I love
By the Archangel, I am condemned

When will I start to smile again?
Will it take another day? Will it take another life?
Can I see it with my eyes?
And my plans for my future life, they will all be put aside, they were a dream but nothing more,
just imagined joy

And now I depart to see a brighter day
And I leave the sadness all behind
Will i find happiness? Are this the golden days?
Can it be I got my life back?
I think I see the meaning, A secret of our lives
You only miss it when its gone

Why have I been elected to this fate?
Have I done something wrong in this life?
I have been robbed of all that I love
By the Archangel, I am condemned
