

Lapis Lazuli, Arise

Never dreaming, always sleeping
Watch the sun fade, cross the heaven

Clad in shadows, buried in mist
Always wandering, never finding

Cannot seem to find the door,
I can't find my way out
Endless prison, endless chains,
I cannot get out

All my limbs have gotten numb,
I can't seem to wake up
Everything has become worse,
I cannot get out

All I have is my own dreams,
I have nothing else left
All I was is nothing more,
I cannot get out

Lying here awake in my dream, cant see the end of this
Is this all whats left of my life, endless inprisonment
Nothing left to do but to fade into a memory
I can't fight the fear that is just far to great

Drawing the last breath of my life, this is my final words
Leaving all regrets far behind, I only look ahead
Fearing what im facing right now, I cannot comprehend taking my final leap of faith into nothing

Everything that I once where have been left to fade away
Taking the last step to the end, a new horizon waits
Nothing is determined and nothing is forgotten, no
All that was and all that is will be remembered

Run away, fly away, there is nothing left for me
Run away, fly away, I am just a memory
Run away, fly away, find the light and you will see
Run away, fly away, I am just a memory

Run away, fly away, there is nothing left for me
Run away, fly away, I am just a memory
Run away, fly away, find the light and you will see
Run away, fly away, I am just a memory
