

Lapis Lazuli, Close the Distance

This has been my longest journey
It has been my toughest trial yet
And I don't know if I'll make it But I won't give up, it won't break me

It has been my breaking point I have seen the darkest side of me
And I still feel I don't know myself Never understood what I must know

Finally, I see the light at the end, this is where I make my final stand, the final push this is all that is, and will be

But it isn't over, not by far this will only make it harder and I'm not sure that I can take it but I have no choice but to try

This is my final trial, where I prove myself will I let myself down?
Taking the final leap, and I just know that I

Haven't come this far so I could give up didn't do all this so I could fail
This is not the time where I surrender
This is where I close the distance, finally

When I crossed the line, this is all that is remaining
When I crossed the line, this is everything that's left of me Once I crossed the line, things will turn around Once I crossed this line I will face my future

On the other side everything is changed
On the other side a new life awaits

Now I see this has no ending All my life will be as what it was an endless struggle, never rest from the dark that all ways hunted me

Nothing ever change, always the same everything remains until I fade into nothing but a memory but at least I can remember

This is my final trial, where I prove myself
will I let myself down?
Taking the final leap, and I just know that I

Haven't come this far so I could give up
didn't do all this so I could fail
This is not the time where I surrender
This is where I close the distance, finally
