

Laura Marano, The Valley

You told my mother you'd be back for your birthday
When she told me, I laughed at your wordplay
I still wanted you back in the worst way though
I'm so typical

Don't call me a moment
Don't call me your friend
Don't call me a story
Cause stories end

Don't call me the most
When I felt like a ghost then
But if you want, I guess that you could call me when

You come back
Come back to the Valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then

You come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then

Told Vanessa cause she knew I wasn't feeling right
She's not used to seeing me, seeing me cry
Think a part of her was still on your side, oh
It's so typical

Don't call me a moment
Don't call me your friend
Don't call me a story
Cause stories end
Don't call me the most
When I felt like a ghost then
But if you want, I guess that you could call me when

You come back
Come back to the Valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then

You come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then

Don't call me a moment
Don't call me your friend
Don't call me a story
Cause stories end
Don't call me the most
When I felt like a ghost then
But if you want, I guess that you could call me when

You come back
Come back to the Valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
Come back
Come back to the valley
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then

You come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
Come back, come back, come back
If you want, I guess that you could
Guess that you could call me then