

Laura Pausini, Say It Once (Laura E Ultra)

Say it once, say it twice
Just say it anyway you like it
Just say it tonight 'cos you know
That tomorrow's gonna be too late
Take my life, take my heart
Just take it anyway you like it
Just say it tonight 'cos you know
That tomorrow is gonna be too late
It's gonna be too late, yeah
If I could fly, up to sky
I'd bring back the sunshine for you
If I could rise to the paradise
I'd take you with me too
A little sign, to say you're mine
A reason for living baby
Without it I am gonna find
That I need somebody
I need somebody new
If you could only find
The strength inside to say
You show me heaven baby
Would put the wrong to right
Would start a new day
Everything would be alright
I miss you, I love you
Just say if you think you do
Say it once, say it twice
Just say it anyway you like it
Just say it tonight 'cos you know
That tomorrow's gonna be too late
Take my life, take my heart
Just take it anyway you like it
Just say it tonight 'cos you know
That tomorrow is gonna be too late
It's gonna be too late, yeah
I spent some time
Confused and blind
Just thinking about you lately
And now it's clear I shed a tear
I need your point of view
You've gotta try to symbolise
Your heart and just how you're feeling
To say the words, it doesn't hurt
I say them all to you
If you could only find
The strength inside to say
You show me heaven baby
Would put the wrong to right
Would start a new say
Everything would be alright
I love you
Just say if you think you do
So you want to say it once
You've gotta say it twice yeah
Do you want to tell me
You gotta tell me
Say it, say it, say it
Say it once, say it twice
