

Lea Michele, Anything's Possible

It's time to leave it all behind
It's time to pick up the pieces of my scattered mind
And after all my petals fall
I can finally find beauty beneath once and for all

I've spent way too long judging myself
Running from truth into someone else's arms
But I'm done
The battle's begun /2x

There's fire in me
Deep down in my veins
These clouds in my head, they're not gonna rain
There's fight in my heart
There's hope in my eyes /2x

I push through the limits
I climb every wall
I keep on believing anything is possible
I run until I'm breathless
I stand 10 feet tall
I keep on believing anything is possible

It's time to crack the open door
It's time to leave every teardrop on the bathroom floor
If I'm scared, I'll go in scared
Yes, I've got nothing to lose
It's only up from here

I've spent way too long judging myself
Running from truth into someone else's arms
But I'm done
The battle's begun /2x

There's fire in me
Deep down in my veins
These clouds in my head, they're not gonna rain
There's fight in my heart
There's hope in my eyes /2x

The night is all around me
Around me
But in the dark
The stars they've found me
Found me
I'm here

I'm gonna push through the limits
I climb every wall
I keep on believing anything is possible
I run until I'm breathless
I stand 10 feet tall
I keep on believing anything is possible