

Leaves' Eyes, Fires in the North

Once more sail set up high
We are heading far another time
Strong mast white-flashing ice
Hard the winds blow into our eyes

We're coming
Seeking Conquering
Everywhere

Against the gale we sail
And if the world goes down
Side by side we stand
We stand as one

Icy winds
Call of the wild sea
Towards far unknown shores
Hearts burning
Feel our flame eternal
The fires in the north
Now our time has come
To rise up high

Fires in the north
We are riders on the storm

Wave on wave we make our way
Breaking through night and day
North star our guide
Led by the gods
Hails our pride

Through Ice and wind we sail
And if the world goes down
Side by side we stand
We stand as one

Icy winds
Call of the wild sea
Towards far unknown shores
Hearts burning
Feel our flame eternal
The fires in the north
Now our time has come
To rise up high

Thunder roars
As the sea is raging
Lightning strikes
Black waves are crushing
Dragon heads
Face a hail of arrows
Bursting wood
Flaming steel in shadows
Fires in the north
We are riders on the storm
Fires in the north

Fires
Now our time has come
To rise up high

Hearts burning
Fires in the north
Calling fires
The Fires in the north

Icy winds
Call of the wild sea
Hearts burning
