Leaves' Eyes, For Amelie

Why don't you feel me? Why can't I hold your hand? Never said that you'd leave me, And I know you are somewhere.

I held you up Every time you were down. Your crying stopped When I was around... but...

Why don't you love me Enough to stay with me? Now tell me truly: Was it there in your heart too? All that I'm left with Is a dream of me and you.

I held you up Every time you were down. Your crying stopped When I was around.

You filled my soul With your beauty and with hope. We're different although We were just like water in sand.

Why don't you feel me? Why cant I hold your hand? You never said that you'd leave me, And I know you are somewhere.

I held you up Every time you were down. Your crying stopped When I was around.

I held you close When you fell to the ground. And now you've torn all my hope apart, You could have said good-bye.
