

Lena Osieńska, Run

You say once more, you say again
This time it won't fail
So how much this time it'll take for you
To lock me in that cage
You have your ways
That always get to me
No matter how hard I try
Cause how am I supposed to control
These waves of emotion
Twisted and turned

I say you should
Run, run for your life that's been given to you
Try, try to get by I won't mind if you would You've seen what a freak I've become
How many times it crossed your mind I may be wrong for you
There's nothing less nothing more
I showed you my offer
Don't do it - don't look at me like that
I know deep down you want go

You are always around
We keep crashing into each other
Smart words, just looks
Electricity
Is vibrating in my body
I try to close my eyes
But I still feel your touch
Guess I should've told you then
That I never wanted
(You to be with me)
