

Leona Lewis, Fireflies

If I could only see this night as another day
I'd know you'd found your silence
Instead of being wrapped up in me
Wrapped up in this violence

I'm back floating on the water
Looking up at the night
There's a hole in the sky
All those fireflies
Don't believe in the sun
Or the night-time skies
They're only fireflies

Took a walk out the door oh
On the day you died
And I looked up to the sun
And I saw fireflies
Now I can't see no border
Between the day and the night
You were torn all your life
Between those fireflies

Fire it's only fire
It's only fire (it's only fireflies)
Fire it's only fire (it's only fire)
It's only fire (yeah) it's only fireflies (it's only)
Fire (oh) it's only fire
It's only fire it's only fire
