

Letters To Cleo, Co Pilot

Everybody says that you're no good i don't pay attention though it doesn't matter though i know it should i don't pay attention so what's the use when it never ends and you're singlar it's true so much for them who cares about my friends be my co-pilot come be in my dream you looked so beautiful there just like the part of you that makes a part of you seem everybody tries so hard to bring me down i don't pay attention though it doesn't matter i can hardly hear a sound and i don't pay attention because number one i'm good with you and the way you look at me is number two so what else could i do be my co-pilot come be in my dream you looked so beautiful there just like the part of you that makes a part of me seem seem like a one way track i feel like i could foat away so what's the use when it never ends and you're singular it's ture so much for them who cares about my friends be my co-pilot come be in my dream you looked so beautiful there just like the part of you that makes a part of me seem take a ride co-pilot shimmer on in my dream
