

Level 42, Why Are You Leaving?

Tell me why are you leaving when there's no place to go what's this secret you're keeping you don't want me to know only lies need defending
'Cos the truth stands by itself
It's time for honesty
I can see - there's someone else

When the dawn breaks tomorrow
Will your whole life been changed
Are you sure all this sorrow won't just flood back again
Some strange dream you've been chasing It's just another rainbow's end
You won't find it there - not anywhere
So why pretend

Tell me why are you leaving
All the things that you know If it's dreams you believe in Just how far can you go
If you leave, what's the answer
Perhaps some other sad affair won't you change your mind Take some time - and I'll be there (I'll be there)