

Liam Gallagher, Once (feat. Eric Cantona)

it was easier to have fun back when we had nothin' nothin' much to manage back when we were damaged something the freedom we wanted feels so uncool just clean the pool and send the kids to school but I remember how you used to shine back than you went down so easy

like a glass of wine, my friend
when the dawn came up
you felt so inspired to do it again
but it turns out
you only get do it once

I think it's true what they say that the dream is borrowed you give it back tomorrow minus the sorrow
and the pain
she just comes in to break up daydream and I felt his waving to keep from feeling the same thing
