

Liam Lynch, Burying Your Cat

i'm, burying your cat tonight by the glow of my headlight a secret, i will hold dear.

i backed over it,
i didn't mean it so i peeled it off the tire, and drove to the edge of town.
i drove to the edge of town tomorrow, you might tell me, that she has ran away a tear falls softly that i whipe away i know, she's safely and six feet under i know she's six feet under,

secretly i know,
she's done for.
