

Lilly Hates Roses, Youth

We go back home
We don't need no more but just to fall in love.
Sometimes we know all those tricks
And we hope that they will work.

"Show must go on" like Freddy used to call over twenty years ago
It doesn't matter that you're lost
And regret most of things you did before.

So what if we were wrong?
So what if we should have just let it go?

Your prophets are dead
You don't believe what they've said, no more.
You just want to move on
But no one tells you where to go

So what if we were wrong?
So what if we should have just let it go?

Take your time.
Don't raise your voice.
I know it's hard
But you just have to make this choice

So
Take your time.
Don't raise your voice.
I know it's hard
But you just have to make this choice
