Lily Allen, Blank Expression

Snow is falling all around Seven o'clock and the roads are blocked So i walk downtown There's no one else around

I look in the bar and immediately I sense *daydream* Look at me girl as if i was some kind of A total stranger

Where did you get that Blank expression on your face? Where did you get that Blank expression on your face?

The streets are dark
And there's no one about
I wander home
And all the lights are out
I keep wondering

Where did you get that Blank expression on your face? Where did you get that Blank expression on your face?

Where did you get that Blank expression on your face? Where did you get that Blank expression on your face?
