

Lizzy McAlpine, Are U Okay?

Am I real?
Do I feel
These things that I feel?
Do you feel them too?
I'm drowning in glue

Tears, they fall
Down my pink cheeks
They don't have homes
Landing wherever they fall
Are you okay?
Not at all

Leave
Watch as I fall
Watch as it all rains down in time
Leave
Watch me my love
Watch as the dove begins to fly

I fall in love
Every time I hear your name
Listless and strong
About what I used to claim
Don't call me back
But then maybe I want you to care
You can't look back
But then how will you know if he's there

It's like walking through sand
Trying to fall
Out of love
On command
Never quite reaching the end
I'm trying to pretend

Leave
Watch as I crawl
Watch as the sky turns purple-blue
Leave
Watch me begin
It's not a sin to still love you

I fall in love
Every time I hear your name
Listless and strong
About what I used to claim
Don't call me back
But then maybe I want you to care
You can't look back
But then have will you know if he's

There are so many things that remind me of you
I need to get out, leave for my sanity soon
There are so many things that remind me
I need to get out, leave for my sanity
There are so many things that remind me
I need to get out, leave for my sanity
There are too many things that remind me of you
I need to get out, leave for my sanity soon
