London Grammar, Interlude

Great stairs beneath the moon
Tonight I?ll be dreaming over you
People the rhythm instead
And there you?ll be, there you?ll be inside my head

I will dream of you You?II dream of me too Your arms go around my face There would be no better place

So a milkman have shocked me while I?m awake I never ran fast enough for my mistakes Would you really want me, the light of day That very same man showed flaws right through my face

I will dream of you You?II dream of me too Your arms go around my face There would be no better place

Close your hand and run to the moon Close your hand and run to the moon moon In and out, in and out, in and out In and out, in and out, in and out
