Lor, Aquarius

Once I heard the flowing boat Hunting for the sunk Threatened me with secret and That they'll go deeper down

I forgot about the sea All I did was drowned I made out the sound of wind Called me when I died

Wipe the feet, the knees Crawl to angry sea I feel trampled here The night just cradle in me

Wipe the feet, the knees Crawl to angry sea I feel trampled here The night just cradle in me