

Loretta Lynn, Till The Pain Outwears The Shame

(Wiley J. Smith)

It's not a knowledge everybody knows I love you
We're cheatin' though we wear another's name
Every night I swear tomorrow I'll forget you Lord I can't
So I'll keep hurtin' till the pain outwears the shame
So I'll be back in your arms again tomorrow
We've led us part a stolen love become a burning flame
Well I'm begging you to go but when I do I know
I'll be hurtin' till the pain outwears the shame
[steel]
Tonight I love you for the last time then I'll say goodbye
But down inside I know it's all in vain
Before I'll leave the hurt's already starting I can't go
I think it's over till the pain outwears the shame
So I'll be back in your arms...
