

Lorrie Morgan, Steppin' Stones

STEPPIN' STONES (featuring Vince Gill and Travis Tritt)

On the rocky road to love, the going has been rough

I fall down but some how I always got back up

I've climbed every mountain, crossed every valley too

I had a heart without a home, but I kept on keeping on

Looking for a love that would be true

They were all just stepping stones to you

Well I have walked on mines, well I should have read the signs Saying dead end don't rush in, but

I started believing, that I was born to lose, oh don't know

But those days are gone, 'cause the love that you have shown

Has given me another point of view

They were all just stepping stones to you

Stepping stones, I've stumbled over hearts 'til I found, solid ground

It's so clear, ain't it funny that it took a trail of tears, to get me here

Now with no stone left unturned, I have finally learned

Is the reason things work out the way they do

Yeah they were all just stepping stones to you

(musique)

I have no regrets for the path I have walked

They all turn to sand but you are my rock

Stepping stones, I've stumbled over hearts 'til I found, solid ground

It's so clear, ain't it funny that it took a trail of tears, to get me here

Is the reason things work out the way they do

Yeah they were all just stepping stones to you
