

Lucero, The Last Song

little mary lee
she always sang so sweet on the banks of the river running through downtown the show tonight with the sweet, sweet sounds cross to tennessee sweet, sweet mary lee her voice is calling me back home to the banks of the river where i belong you know there is one last song now the band is giving it their all she says 'these are the best of days won't you stay and dance with me a while?'
little mary lee
the pain in your heart
is rock and roll
the tears in your eyes
the kiss on your lips
is rock and roll
the blood is your veins
