Lucy Spraggan, Mountains

Sitting in the station Contemplating looks on peoples faces Wondering why they're smiling Or what troubles they are facing

I don't know why I'm thinking it But i just take the time and sit And wonder what their dream is And how they're trying to face it

When an old lady comes and sits next to me And says next birthday I'll be 83 Fell in love with the world when I was 24 I've been to Mexico, Columbia and Equador Sat next to the Taj Mahal While the sun was rising Spent a year in Australia Chasing the horizons So take your guitar and do what you have to do

She said 'I know what you're scared of I used to feel it too You're not scared of climbing mountains You're scared that you can't make them move Oh oh oh I'll move them for you I'll move them for you I'll move them for you

When the most important piece of information You have ever heard Is that soon you'll be sitting On top of the world

I'll move it for you I'll move it for you I'll Move it for you
