Luka Bloom, Ciara

In our troubled times We simply hide away And dream of the one We'd love to see At the end of the day Solitary winter chill me no more I dream an angel by the western seashore

Ciara... Ciara...

There is an angel I would like to know I sing and dream her face Lying on my pillow I kissed her one day In the cool of Brigid's well My heart beat crystal clear like a church bell

Ciara... Ciara...

I can hear the winter knockin' on my door I dream an angel by the western seashore

Ciara... Ciara...
