Looking for a miracle
Waiting for a sun to catch me
I've gotta find a way back home
Alone alone alone

Hoping for a star to fall
Something I can make a wish on
Could it be that I'm the fool
But aren't we all
We all we all

Broken bodies
Scattered through my history
Lonely hours
Leading to my destiny
I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So common
Rise up shout it louder
I'm the one who built the tower

Shining in a tiger's eyes
Only I can find my future
Reading in between the lines
I draw my own
My own my own

Running down the waterfall
Always tried to chase the rainbow
Never found a pot of gold

Broken bodies
Scattered through my history
Lonely hours
Leading to my destiny
I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So common
Rise up shout it louder
I'm the one who built the tower

I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
The tower

I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
The tower

Broken bodies
Scattered through my history
Lonely hours

I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So common

I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
The tower

I'm the one who built the
I'm the one who built the
The tower

I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So common
